Reflection

Food for the Multitudes. After feeding the crowds with the loaves and fishes blessed by Jesus, his disciples gathered twelve baskets of leftovers. Jesus, the generous giver, always provides too much, a sign that his gifts are never meant to be hoarded but to be shared with others. Seeing the poor and hungry of our world, he says to us what he said to his disciples, ‘give them something to eat yourselves’. Nourished by his body and blood in the Eucharist, let us go out and generously share our gifts with others.

(Gen 14:18-20). The First Reading tells how Melchizedek, king of Salem, comes to greet Abraham. Melchizedek is also a priest. As such he brings an offering of bread and wine to Abraham, and pronounces a blessing over him. In Hebrews 7: 1-10 the priesthood of Melchizedek is seen as a type of the perfect priesthood of Christ. And in Christian tradition that bread and wine were seen as prefiguring the bread and wine of the Eucharist.

(1Cor 11:23-26). Paul’s account of the institution of the Eucharist is the earliest written account of the origin of the Eucharist. When we celebrate the Eucharist we do not merely make Christ present, but re-enact the death by which he saved us. A representation is when something from the past is re-presented - something that once was, now is again.

A representation takes yesterday’s action and makes it live again in all its aspects. In other words, a representation is what it claims to be - a making present again. The Eucharist not only looks to the past, but also to the future. It looks forward to the fulfilment of the kingdom.

(Lk 9:11-17). The Eucharistic significance of the multiplication of the loaves is brought out by the use of liturgical language. Luke uses the same words here as at the Last Supper and at Emmaus: Jesus ‘took...blessed...broke...gave.’ In the Eucharist the Church continues the mission of Jesus to teach, to heal, and to nourish the people of God.

Readings for The Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ
(Corpus Christi) Sunday Year C 19th June 2022

First reading:

A reading from the book of Genesis. 14: 18-20

Melchizedek brought bread and wine!

Responsorial Psalm: 110: 1, 2, 3, 4 (R4)

The Lord says to my lord,
"Sit at my right hand
until I make your enemies your footstool."

The Lord sends out from Zion
your mighty sceptre.
Rule in the midst of your foes.

Your people will offer themselves willingly
on the day you lead your forces on the holy mountains.
From the womb of the morning, like dew,
your youth will come to you.

The Lord has sworn and will not change his mind,
'You are a priest forever
according to the order of Melchizedek.'

Second reading:

A reading from the first letter of Saint Paul to the Corinthians. 11: 23-26

As often as you eat this bread and drink the cup, you proclaim the Lord's death until he comes!

Gospel Acclamation:

Alleluia, alleluia!

I am the living bread of heaven, says the Lord;
Whoever eats of this bread will live forever.
Alleluia!
